

BECAUSE SOLUTION BUILDING IS A JOURNEY

For for many of us summer is a season when memories are forged; it plays a starring role in the highlight reel of our childhood! Whatever we do during the long days and warm nights - these moments seem to remain fixed in our collective consciousness.

Summers for those experiencing domestic violence and human trafficking feel much different. The highlight reels are disrupted. In fact, for Safe Haven Ministries, when the school bell no longer rings, and the bus no longer stops, and the heat of summer turns up, our emergency shelter becomes an escape for dozens of children and individuals who will be fleeing for their safety; seeking refuge from the heat of domestic violence and/or human trafficking.

Would you picture, for a moment, an individual on the brink of making the hardest decision of their life?

Safe Haven Ministries believes in the power of community and possibilities, and we know that "possible" will never live up to its full potential unless we relentlessly ask, what if?

Possibility Comes to Life . . .

"When I was in shelter, it was often just the simple actions that meant the most to me. I had a baby daughter that came with me and would scream and cry at night and I would often have to just sit with her in the living room area and I was exhausted and overwhelmed. The advocate would just come in, not say a word to me, but sit with me and give me a thumbs up, and that was all I needed, we didn't have to chat, it was just her presence that meant so much."
